

“Welcome to Being Human”

A song by Ellen Therese

All rights reserved.

Verse 1:

Why is breathing oh so heavy
Always fogging up my mind
Wish that I could just escape this fucking nightmare
Show me how to open up this time

Verse 2:

Hey it's okay that breathing's heavy
Just breath deep Inhale the fog
Just remember life gets so much fucking better
If you just remember you this time

Chorus:

Welcome to being a human being
We all need space to learn and grow
Constantly feeling like unworthy beings
You know which way you wanna go
Just roll the windows down you'll know

Verse 3:

All my ghosts they are so vexing
Teach me how to clear my mind
Can you fill me in on how to stop feeling so lonely
I'm just trying to leave it all behind

Verse 4:

The ghosts around are mostly friendly
Ain't it kinda proof you're not alone
Fill you in on a secret everyone's got baggage tips But you don't have to leave it all behind

Chorus: Above

Bridge:

This is when I ask God why
I should even attempt a try
I'm getting to tired to keep up the fight
But I keep my faith through the pain
Everything's not so black and white
I'm allowed to go left and right
Have some faith it's not just your fight

Chorus final:

Welcome to be A human being
Just try you best to learn and grow
Constantly feeling like unworthy beings
You don't always have to have control
You're just a human let it go