It's No Dream Extend Your Summer with Voices Found Repertory

[MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18--] Voices Found Repertory makes their return to the stage with William Shakespeare's most fanciful play, A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM. Opening September 2, the production runs through September 12 at Inspiration Studios in West Allis.

When Hermia's father forbids her from marrying her love, Lysander, they run to the forest to make their escape. Demetrius, the man Hermia's father has arranged for her to marry, and Helena, a woman desperately trying to win the affection of Demetrius, follow the pair into the forest. Hilarity and misfortune ensue when Oberon, the King of the Forest, meddles in the lovers' troubles while enacting his own revenge on Titania, the Queen of the Forest. Tickets and more information available at voicesfoundrep.com.

Under the direction of Sarah Zapiain, this production features a cast of thirteen actors; VFR alums Brandon Haut, Haley Ebinal, Maya Danks, Kyle Connor, Hannah Kubiak, Brittany Haut, Alexis Furseth and Jessica Trznadel, plus newcomers Amber Weissert, Phillip Steenbekkers, Grace De Wolf, Ben Yela, and Kazoua Thao. This all-star cast is supported by the design talents of Brandon Haut as Assistant Director, Claire Kinder as Costume Designer, with technical design by Casey Paszkiewicz and live music coordination by Maya Danks.

Inspiration Studios is an artistic hub right in the heart of West Allis. Conveniently located near I94, the area offers a bounty of restaurants, shopping experiences and activities just outside the hustle of downtown Milwaukee.

Voices Found Repertory began in 2016 as an idea between four friends, and continues its fifth season as one of the premiere Shakespeare companies in Milwaukee. VFR strives to create theatre that unifies its audience; to develop a common artistic vocabulary and allow artists to work, learn and play together; and to establish an inclusive safe space for exploration, communication and empathy.
